

Character Development Chart

A Character Development Chart is useful for tracing the changes in a character throughout a story, novel, or play. A chart like this one may also help you discover one or more themes of a work.

| Beginning | Middle | End |
|--|---|--|
| Write how the character feels or acts at the beginning | Write how the character feels or acts in the middle | Write how the character feels or acts at the end |
| What influenced the character to be or act this way? | What influenced the change in the character? | What influenced the change in the character? |
| Possible Themes: Write what you think a theme of the work might be here | | |
